FATEFUL BATTLE OF JAVA IS UNDER WAY; LANDING ATTEMPTED

U. S. Troops Strive To Drive
"Jap" Troops Into
The Sea

GREAT HAIL OF GUNFIRE

Enemy Troops Land in Face of Bombs, Guns; Terrific Toll Taken

By Leo V. Dolan
(I. N. S. War Editor)

The fateful battle for Java is under way.

Nightfall over the island of Bali, only one mile distant from the easternmost tip of Java, found troops of the United Nations striving desperately to drive into the sea Jap landing parties who were pushed ashore this morning.

The Japs landed their invasion troops in the face of a terrific hail of bombs and gunfire from planes, warships and submarines of the United Nations which took an appalling toll of casualties in men and equipment among the invaders.

First word that the Japs had started their drive against Java came early this morning in a Dutch communique which spoke of strong action then under way against the Jap landing parties. Late tonight the official Dutch news agency Aneta received word that

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

U. S. Air Reinforcements Have Arrived in Dutch Indies

Washington—Indicating that U. S. air reinforcements have arrived in the Dutch Indies, the War Department today reported the biggest aerial encounter by the Army since the war began in describing a fierce assault by American bombers on a Japanese armada near Bali.

At the same time, the War Department disclosed that on the Bataan Peninsula there has been a resumption of heavy artillery duels between the forces of General MacArthur and the Japanese invaders.

In the engagement, American fliers off Bali scored numerous hits on a Japanese invasion fleet consisting of two cruisers, four or five destroyers, and four troop laden transports.

While army spokesmen explained that details of the Bali action were not yet available, early reports indicated that American aircraft took a tremendous toll of Japanese war ships and transports.

Editor's note—In Batavia it was officially announced that one large Jap transport had been sunk and a number of direct hits scored on enemy cruisers and destroyers.

Working in relays, a formation of heavy bombers and two dive bombers scored direct hits on one or more enemy cruisers and two direct hits on transports, according to the War Department today.

American and Dutch Aircraft Blast Enemy Ships

Batavia—American and Dutch aircraft and naval units, striking furiously against the "Jap" invaders in the narrow waters surrounding Java, have blasted numerous enemy warships and transports in a raging two day battle, it was announced today in a series of communiques.

One large enemy transport was known to have been sunk yesterday by bombers southeast of Bali, while a number of direct hits were scored on Japanese cruisers and destroyers.

Roaring to the attack on Thursday night against Jap invaders off the northeast coast of Bali, American destroyers and Dutch destroyers and cruisers seriously damaged two Jap cruisers and two destroyers.

"Japs" Cross Bilin River; Heavy Losses for Both Sides

Rangoon—Japanese troops have succeeded in forcing a crossing of the Bilin River north of Bilin, an official communique conceded today, but were driven back in heavy counter assaults during fierce fighting in which casualties were extremely heavy on both sides.

"Since our withdrawal behind the Bilin River," the communique said, "the enemy first succeeded in crossing the river north of Bilin. Our forward brigades were subjected to a heavy attack and immediately launched a counter attack."

Soviet Crimean Army Lands Troops Near Theodosia

New York—The Soviet Crimean army has succeeded in landing sea-borne troops near the port of Theodosia and fierce fighting is continuing, the British radio reported today according to CBS.

The Russians recaptured Theodosia a number of weeks ago but later lost it to the Germans.

London—Complete confidence in Soviet Russia's ability to withstand the expected German offensive coupled with the belief that Hitler can be crushed by the end of 1942 was expressed today by one of Russia's veteran diplomats.

PERKASIE FOLKS RESIDE AT ARUBA

Robert Wassmuth, Wife and Two Children Live In Aruba

TOWN WAS DEVELOPED

PERKASIE, Feb. 21—This community is keenly interested in the attack on Aruba, because of former local people residing there. They are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wassmuth, the former a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wassmuth, and Mrs. Wassmuth is a daughter of Monroe Haring.

The latter is a graduate of Sell-Perk high school and before her marriage was secretary to Supervising Principal L. N. Snyder of the Sell-Perk schools.

Mr. Wassmuth, an electrician, accepted employment with the Standard Oil Company and left for Aruba in June, 1939. Four months later, Mrs. Wassmuth, with their four-year-old daughter, followed her husband to the island. Eighteen months ago a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wassmuth at Lago, the Standard Oil town where all its employees are housed.

The Wassmuths have regularly corresponded with their families here. The only information the parents here have is what they learned through the correspondence. According to this information the Standard Oil Company has developed there one of the largest refineries in the world. A high grade of oil is processed and shipped to the markets of the world. The entire town is owned by the Company and houses fully equipped and furnished are provided without cost to all employees.

Free medical service and modern hospitals and facilities are also furnished to all employees.

One Goat Burned To Death; Another Rescued

MORRISVILLE, Feb. 21—One goat was rescued while another was burned to death when flames destroyed a frame storehouse in the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brady, Upper Ferry Road, Morrisville. Mrs. George Polensky, a neighbor, discovered the blaze and notified Mrs. Mary A. Carter, 71, mother of Mrs. Brady.

Mrs. Carter managed to get one of the goats from the building, but flames prevented her from rescuing the other animal. Mrs. Carter's hair was singed. Some lumber and valuable tools belonging to Brady were destroyed.

The Union and Capitol View Fire Companies of Morrisville responded to the alarm.

TWO HOSPITALS HERE IN EMERGENCY PLAN

Both Are Included in The Five
Base Hospital
Set-Up

PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Bristol's two hospitals—the Harrison Hospital and the hospital of Dr. J. Fred Wagner—are included in the five base hospitals in plans to provide care in an emergency as the result of bombings or an influx of evacuees.

Other plans lifted bodily from the Army Medical Corps book by Bucks County volunteer defense workers are being put into effect:

Supplies, ranging from cots and blankets to serum and splints, are arriving in Doylestown, and being paid for with funds raised through contributions from individuals, clubs and manufacturing plants. A sum of $25,000 is needed to equip the complete emergency medical setup, and a drive for that amount has been in progress for some time.

On paper the plan calls for division of the county into three sections, with Doylestown the point of control. The county's five hospitals will serve as base hospitals, each with auxiliary field dressing stations, isolation hospitals and staffs of physicians, surgeons, dentists and druggists. There will be 24 casualty hospitals, 13 field hospitals, and 12 isolation hospitals.

At present the supplies that will turn the rural countryside into a haven of comfort and safety are being stacked in Doylestown, but within a few weeks they will be distributed in Bristol, Quakertown, and Sellersville, the main points of distribution in event of disaster.

The plan, plotted by Dr. Allen H. Moore, Doylestown physician, who is head of the medical division of the Bucks County Council of Defense and chairman of the American Red Cross disaster committee for the section, will aid any victims of bombing in the county's few industrial towns, but is primarily designed to care for evacuees.

Dr. Moore, a former Army major, believes a bombing of New York or Philadelphia would result in a flood tide of refugees through Bucks county, and believes that all preparations should be air-tight now to handle such an influx.

His plan will work as follows: The refugees will be filtered through collection stations at Delaware River bridgeheads and on highways leading into the county. Those well and able to keep moving will be told to push on, but the sick and injured will be tagged to expedite their care.

Preliminary medical aid will be administered in the casualty stations and field hospitals; those needing further treatment will be transported by volunteer drivers to the base hospitals, and those with minor hurts to private homes for sleep if the influx comes at night.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
(I. N. S. Staff Writer)

The old gray mayors of OCD have been put out to pasture with the rhythmic dancers and the paty-cake specialists.

The old gray mayors were staid without public knowledge.

The "know your government" division hadn't gotten around to telling us about them.

Now the "know your government" division has been abolished and we shall have to lean on our own sources for information as to the progress of that strange, beautiful phenomena—the government.

Nazi Germany has uncovered a plot to kill Hitler.

Is that news?

Our "know the score" division ferreted that one out years ago and referred it to the inspector general of the office of data and duff.

Thought for the day: Oh say can you see how goes OCD?

The drive is being directed by the Rohm & Haas Social Club and through the Board of Governors, each employee is being contacted. They have set $2,000 as their goal.

Arrangements have been made to place a large sign on the outside of the office building. The sign will show a thermometer about 24 feet high on which will be kept a record of the amount subscribed from day to day. Much interest is being shown by all the employees and they hope to break the thermometer.

The widow will inherit the $2500 personal estate of Newton Shuman, Quakertown, who named her, Emma Shuman, 17 North Hellertown avenue, Quakertown, the executrix, and stipulated that at her death the estate should be inherited by a daughter, Florence.

THIS WAS A MAN

Every American school will pay honor to the memory of George Washington. Young Americans are being told to admire their nation's first President and to emulate his courage, strength of character and wise leadership.

They might honor him best by learning more about him. So might many of their elders, to whom Washington is more of a legend than a living personality. But young Americans, more than their parents and teachers, might be pleased to discover that Washington's greatness did not lie in the length and breadth of his learning. It was not derived from school books. It was born in the man himself, who made the best of it in his country's service.

An authority on Washington's life says that little is known about his "childhood because there was little unusual to tell." It is added that "his education was only elementary and very defective" and that in the early years of his adult life "Washington gave his associates no reason to consider him a man of uncommon endowments."

But the same historian points out that "he was educated into greatness
by the increasing weight of his responsibilities." Their weight was great, indeed, and any lesser man would have broken beneath it.
Washington, in his years of public service was continually called upon to make momentous decisions and abide by them. He was required to be strong amid wavering councils.
He was looked to for the leadership which others lacked courage to take.

This was his education into greatness—yet had there been less than greatness within him he would have failed. Had he failed, the history of the last sixteen or seventeen decades would be a strangely different story.

Washington had his times of bitterness in later life when he wondered why he had not resigned the cares of office and taken the easier way of retirement to the pleasant life he loved. When his work was well done he did retire, but with a new-made nation's love and gratitude in more generous measure than great leadership is usually granted.

Tributes to his achievements have become household words. Much eloquence will celebrate the 20th anniversary of his birth. But Shakespeare said all that need be said in tribute to another great soldier, statesman and patriot: "This was a man!"

ENEMY QUESTION

Who are America's enemies? This is a question prompted by evidence that parts of the nation are beginning to indulge in the favorite American pastime of assigning preferential rankings to every one from enemies to debutantes.

In some circles there is quite a campaign going on to give the rating of No. 1 Enemy to Japan. Other groups think Hitler is entitled to the designation. This practice, harmless in itself, conceivably could lead to grave consequences should one view or the other ever assume a commanding position in the public consciousness. For such a diversion, if allowed to make any headway at all, could, in time, accomplish just the result that those who are fighting America most desire—internal division followed by discord.

GRAND THEATRE

During filming of the new Rosalind Russell-Walter Pidgeon co-starring picture, "Design for Scandal," opening today at the Grand Theatre, M-G-M's legal-minded technical directors just stood around.

Although the story concerns a woman judge and there are a great many scenes in her courtroom, there was nothing for the law experts to do. Reason being that members of the cast knew all about law. Rosalind's father and seven members of her immediate family were lawyers.

Jane Withers goes "down to the farm" in her newest and happiest hit, "Young America," the dramatization of the 4-H Club organizations which is coming Sunday to the Grand Theatre.

FALLS HIGH SCHOOL WINS HONORS IN THE DEL. VALLEY LEAGUE

Doheny's Boys Defeat Mount Holly To Win The Championship

FINAL SCORE IS 40 TO 36

The Eighth Straight Victory For the Boys From Fallsington

MT. HOLLY, Feb. 21—Coach "Jimmy" Doheny's Fallsington high school team captured the championship of the Delaware Valley League last night when it defeated Mt. Holly high school, 40-36, in a thrilling contest played on the latter's floor.

It was the eighth straight victory in Conference play for Coach Doheny's minions. They have not been beaten in Delaware Valley competition. It was the second time this season that the Holly boys were beaten by the Orange and Black. Only last week, Mt. Holly rose to great heights by triumphing over Wildwood high school, sectional champions of South Jersey.

The Falls boys had to fight an uphill battle to garner the contest as the Jersey team held the edge from the start of the contest until Falls went ahead at the close of the third period.

The lead began to see-saw from then on until with but four minutes remaining to be played, Artie Driscoll sent Falls into the lead with a field goal to make the score 32-31. Kratcher followed this with a long shot and Falls' lead was increased to 34-31. Horner dropped in a foul for Mt. Holly and then drew groans from the Mt. Holly fans when he missed a set shot. Monti practically put the game on ice for the Dohenymen with two hook shots from the pivot position. Green added two points to the ultimate losers' total by a beautiful side shot but Driscoll brought the Falls' total to 40 with an under-the-basket shot. Bridgman made it 40-36 with a goal just as the whistle blew ending the game.

Driscoll and Monti scored 26 of the winning team's points while Jones was high man for Mt. Holly.

ST. FRANCIS LOSES TO BENSALEM FIVE

Bensalem High School avenged an early season defeat last night by defeating the St. Francis Industrial School five at Cornwells Heights by a 21 to 25 margin. The game was closely contested throughout with the Owls leading most of the way. Hugh Deans and George Hutton paced the winners attack with 12 and 9 points respectively. For St. Francis, Jim Doakes had 14 markers.

The Blue and White Jay Vees tabbed a 32 to 28 decision over the St. Francis Junior varsity contingent. Everett and Hutton, who also played in the varsity game, took point honors, while the work of freshman Earl Hess was outstanding. The junior high school fray was won by the invaders to start the evening of basketball off.

BRISTOL HIGH SCHOOL WINS A SENSATIONAL VICTORY, DEFEATING MORRISVILLE BY SCORE OF 23 TO 22

By Jack Gill

A gallant and fighting Bristol High School basketball team wrote a chapter into the school's athletic annals that may never be forgotten last night at Morrisville. Playing their most crucial game of the season; one that had to be won to keep them in the championship bracket with Fallsington, the Bunnies weren't doing so good for three periods. Going into the last quarter they were trailing by a 17 to 4 count. Victory seemed far away.

How they overcame the Morrisville advantage, swept aside what seemed to be inevitable defeat and registered a 23 to 22 win, only the sport gods can answer. For Bristol was indeed more than slightly terrific in scoring eighteen points in a sensational last ditch flare-up. They were unstoppable.

Midway in the last quarter it was 22 to 11 in favor of the Bulldogs. Chick DiAngelo got hot, however, dropped in three of his now famous shots. Ken Herrmann hit the basket on a one hander and Hopkins sunk a lay-up from underneath to make the score read, 22-21. A moment later Jimmy Hopkins tallied a foul and Bristol had pulled one of the greatest comebacks in the school's long athletic history.

With the score at 22 all, the first extra period, played amid the din of a crowd that roared approval of the festivities constantly, was a scoreless affair for both sides that left the fans in a worse dither.

DiAngelo won the game in the second three minute chucker when he made good on a free toss. Both sides were gripped with tension and pressure and play was wild. Morrisville tried a few long shots that missed their mark.

It was much different from the first game between the two teams that Bristol won easily by a 24 to 14 score. Morrisville had won only three games and had lost fourteen. They were out for blood and to avenge beatings to basketball and football inflicted by their arch rivals. Whipper Wallace was their star and he was forced to leave the game on personals in the third period. Thus the Bulldogs lost a scoring threat. Slim Flendel also played fine ball for the losers.

Bristol couldn't be denied its triumph. The entire team fought like madmen to wipe off impending disaster in the closing minutes with that 18 point spurge. The play of DiAngelo, who had 11 points, Herrmann, Hopkins and the remainder of the lineup, was sparkling once they made up their minds they wanted a win badly.
